DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-20 are presented for examination. This office action is in response to the amendment filed on 5-7-2001.

Specification

Applicant is respectfully requested to fill the blank in Specification (page 1 and 2) with proper U.S Patent Application number.

Please review the application and correct all informalities.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lathrop et al (5,097,427) in view of Laferriere (6,226,005).

Regarding claim 1, Lathrop et al discloses that the claimed feature of a method for applying texture mapping in per-pixel operations (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25), the method comprising:

Receiving a plurality of parameters that define a pixel value at a pixel in a primitive (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Selecting a set of parameters (illumination values) from the plurality of parameters, the selected set of parameters (illumination values that changing by the light source) being associated with texture values (texture values representative of a selected texture pattern), one parameter per texture value, the parameters that are not selected defining [a set of unselected parameters] that have constant values over the primitive (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25, col 4 line 50-col 5 line 56)

Determining a texture value for each of the selected parameters by accessing a set of textures, the texture value for the selected parameters varying over the primitive (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25, col 4 line 50-col 5 line 56)

Evaluating (Combining Function in Fig 1) the pixel value by using the unselected parameters and the texture values, wherein the set of unselected parameters are not texture values and the texture values are associated with the selected parameters. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25, col 4 line 50-col 5 line 56)

Lathrop et al does not specifically disclose a set of unselected parameters, which have constant values over the primitive. However, Laferriere discloses such claimed feature of invention. (See Abstract, Fig 5a, Fig 7a-7b, Fig 8, Fig 10a-10b, col 9 line 31-col 10 line 33) The motivation would have been to provide fast image processing by eliminating the unnecessary computation for unchanged scene or images or to reducing the rendering time by eliminating the calculation for the contributions of lights in the scene during rendering. Furthermore, classifying/separating the parameters between varying parameters (selected parameters in claim) and unvarying parameters (unselected parameters in claim) is a well known art which save processing time and cost in image processing. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to incorporate the teaching of Ohazama into the teaching of Lathrop et al.

Regarding claim 2, Lathrop et al discloses that displaying the generated pixel light value on a display device. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 3, Lathrop et al discloses that the plurality of parameters includes per-primitive parameters, which are defined over the entire primitive. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 4, Lathrop et al discloses that the primitive is a polygon. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 20-35, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 5, Lathrop et al discloses that the plurality of parameters includes both scalar and vector parameters. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 1 line 51-62, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 6, Lathrop et al discloses that the plurality of parameters includes one or more of emission material color, ambient material color, global ambient light color, attenuation factor, ambient light color, diffuse material color, diffuse light color, specular material color, specular light color, a surface normal vector, a specular exponent, an environment map color, and a shadow color. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 7, Lathrop et al discloses that the operation of determining the texture value further comprises the operation of:

Receiving texture coordinates for accessing the set of textures (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Accessing the textures in response to the texture coordinates to generate the texture values. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 8, Lathrop et al discloses that the accessed texture includes a plurality of texture elements, the method further comprising the operation of:

Filtering the accessed texture elements of the texture map onto the selected pixel to generate the texture value associated with the pixel (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25, col 7 line 39-48)

Regarding claim 9, Lathrop et al discloses that a light value is generated for the pixel value by evaluating a lighting equation that is defined in terms of the plurality of parameters. (See Abstract, Fig 1, col 2 line 60-col 4 line 25)

Regarding claim 10, Claim 10 is the corresponding device of claim 1. Thus, the rejection to claim 1 hereinabove is also applicable to claim 10.

Regarding claims 11-14, Claims 11-14 are respectively equivalent to claims 4,6,5 and 9, and thus the rejections to claims 4,6,5 and 9 hereinabove are also respectively applicable to claims 11-14, but applied in view of the rejections to base claim 10.

Regarding claim 15, Claim 15 is the corresponding computer graphics system of claim 1. Thus, the rejection to claim 1 hereinabove is also applicable to claim 15.

Regarding claims 16-20, Claims 16-20 are respectively equivalent to claims 6,5,9,4 and 8, and thus the rejections to claims 6,5,9,4 and 8 hereinabove are also respectively applicable to claims 16-20, but applied in view of the rejections to base claim 15.

Response to Arguments/Amendment

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
